PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord’s Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Blessed with Happiness

In today's gospel each of the eight beatitudes begins with the word blessed: blessed are the poor in spirit; blessed are the meek; blessed are the peacemakers. The dictionary offers many synonyms for blessed: saintly, holy, blissful, happy. In scripture, Blessed is the divine favor of God's grace by which a holy life is also a happy life.

The gospels teach that the blessed of the beatitudes not only means holy and happy, but that holy and happy are related. Blessed are the merciful; Holy are the merciful; Happy are the merciful. Blessed are the peacemakers; Holy are the peacemakers; Happy are the peacemakers. The promise of the beatitudes is that a holy person will be blessed as a happy person.

Unfortunately, many people today think that holiness precludes enjoying the pleasures of life and therefore happiness. But in truth, holiness is a source of happiness. While blessed and holy may readily be associated with living the beatitudes, it is happiness that is easily overlooked.

Some mistakenly think that religious faith restricts our freedom and therefore limits the joy of life. But history testifies that the great saints were not only holy, but that they were also happy. St. Francis, St. Theresa, and Padre Pio did not find holiness and happiness to be contradictory but complementary. Few were as happy as they were, because they lived the Beatitudes.

On World Youth Day Pope Francis told young people to "have the courage to be happy" and he offered the beatitudes as a guide on the journey to happiness. This search for happiness, said Pope Francis, is an innate thirst shared by people of all times and all ages. "God has placed in the heart of every man and woman an irrepressible desire for happiness, for fulfillment," he said. "In Christ," he continued, "you will find your every desire for goodness and happiness fulfilled. He alone can satisfy your deepest longings, which are so often clouded by deceptive worldly promises."

"In a culture of superficial relativism many insist on enjoying only the present moment. They deny the value of making a life-long commitment. I am asking you to rebel against this culture which preaches that everything is temporary and that you are incapable of any serious responsibility, only the pleasure of the present moment."

The eight beatitudes are the recipe for making a saint, a saint blessed with a life of holiness which knows the happiness of goodness and truth. The popular hymn has it right: "Blessed are you; holy are you; rejoice and be glad. Yours is the kingdom of God."

... and mirth

You know you are old when the candles cost more than the cake.

Candlemas — Candles Blessed

Fr. Jim Moster will bless candles during the 6:45 a.m. Mass at the Basilica of St. Fidelis on the feast of the Presentation of the Lord, Thursday, February 2. If you would like your personal candles blessed for your home use, you may place them on the Communion rail for Fr. Jim to bless.

Throats Blessed

In honor of the feast of St. Blaise (February 3), throats will be blessed after the 6:45 a.m. Mass on Friday, February 3, and after all Masses next weekend, February 4-5. Due to the high amount of communicable diseases currently, Fr. Jim will give the blessing to all present by extending his hands over the congregation, without the crossed candles, while saying the prayer of blessing.

National Catholic Schools Week

National Catholic Schools week is January 29 to February 4. It is an annual celebration of Catholic education in the United States that was started in 1974. Schools typically observe the week with Masses, assemblies and other activities for students, families, parishioners, and community members to celebrate. Through these events, schools focus on the value Catholic education provides to young people and its contributions to our church, our communities, and our nation. This year's theme is Catholic Schools: Faith. Excellence. Service.

SURVEY SAYS — As part of the school improvement process, families were surveyed about the Catholic Identity of the Catholic Schools their child(ren) attend. Below are some of the findings of the survey:

- Symbols of the Catholic faith are displayed throughout our schools.
- Our schools are communities that pray together.
- Our schools make Jesus and the teachings of the Catholic Church known to all students

The top reasons why families chose to enroll their child (ren) in our Catholic schools:

- Catholic religious identity
- Class size
- School reputation
- Academic reputation
- Teachers/Staff
