PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord’s Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Our Spiritual Dress Code

When you are invited to a special celebration, one of your first concerns is, "What will I wear?" You wonder if your attire will be appropriate. This is not empty vanity. What you wear says something not only about yourself, but also about your respect for others and the occasion they are celebrating.

So we have sympathy for the man in today's gospel. He was invited to the wedding celebration at the last minute. Apparently he thought he could come as he was. But then he is thrown out for not being properly dressed. It does not seem fair.

The gospel would be unfair if it were a lesson in proper attire. But the gospel is not about fashion. It is a parable about the kingdom of God. And the wedding garment of the gospel is the baptismal robe. That white garment worn at baptism is more than a garment. It is a symbol of our commitment to our faith. It is also a symbol of the condition of that commitment throughout life.

The historical setting of today's gospel was the persecution of the early church, when some did abandon their faith. They abandoned their baptismal robe. In this gospel being without a baptismal garment meant having denied the faith. The man in today's gospel parable was without the baptismal robe he had relinquished under persecution.

We modern Christians do not live in a time of civil persecution. Yet we do live in a culture that is often hostile to faith. The pagan secular culture in which we are immersed, can erode one's faith in many subtle ways. We can stain our baptismal garment.

Dramatic total denials of faith are rare. More often faith is eroded gradually, like the accumulation of dust on furniture. One day you run your finger across a table top and are shocked at the amount of dust. In like manner, we absorb the unhealthy values of our secular culture gradually, imperceptibly.

To avoid such an erosion of faith, our Catholic tradition values daily prayer, frequent examination of our conscience, and regular confession. We go for a regular checkup at the dentist and we service our car on schedule. How often have you changed the oil in your car since your last confession? We readily see soiled garments. Matters of faith are unseen and therefore more difficult to discern, and to remedy.

Our baptismal robe often needs to be laundered, but it never goes out of style. It is a commitment, not a fad. It is the required dress for the kingdom of God.

... and mirth

It was an emotional wedding; even the cake was in tiers.

World Mission Sunday

The Church celebrates World Mission Sunday worldwide on October 22.

Pope Pius XI instituted World Mission Sunday in 1926, and the first worldwide collection occurred the following year. World Mission Sunday is an effort of the entire Church to help over 1,100 dioceses that cannot sustain themselves because they are too poor, young, or actively persecuted.

Until 1908, the Church in the United States was a mission territory. We relied on this fund to build our churches and seminaries and support our clergy and religious. Today many foreign missions rely on our generosity to sustain the Church, which is an instrument of God's love and mercy, His hope and peace.

For three days their faith will be energized by the Holy Spirit: they'll hear Him in the words of renowned Catholic speakers but also during the silence of awe-filled and breathtaking liturgies; Mass with tens of thousands of other youth plus hundreds of priests and other religious AND a breathtaking and Spirit-filled hour of Eucharistic Adoration; plus so much more!

We thank you wholeheartedly for your support!
