PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

A Transfigured Lent

If you are wondering how this Sunday's gospel of the Transfiguration of Christ pertains to Lent — and that is a reasonable question — consider these three clues: where the story occurs in the gospel; those who appeared with the transfigured Christ; and the apostles who witnessed it.

The Transfiguration occurs in the synoptic gospels between two predictions of the death and resurrection of Christ. In the passage preceding the Transfiguration, Christ admonishes Peter: "The Son of Man must suffer greatly, be rejected by the elders, be killed, and on the third day be raised." Then immediately following the transfiguration, Christ repeats this prediction. The Transfiguration cannot be understood apart from the death and resurrection of Christ.

The Transfiguration occurs at a time in the gospels when the disciples reluctantly realize that Jesus is a Messiah who will come to his glory through the cross. Placing the Transfiguration at this critical time in the faith development of the disciples reveals not only the meaning of the cross of Christ but it teaches us that human suffering is not meaningless. We each have a share in the sufferings of Christ, which is inseparable from our share in the glory of Christ.

Mark and Matthew tell us that Moses and Elijah appeared with the transfigured Christ and were speaking with him. But Luke tells us also what they were talking about: "They spoke with him of his departure which he was to accomplish in Jerusalem." Their conversation relates the transfiguration to the passion, death and resurrection of Christ.

It is significant that the Apostles who witnessed the transfiguration were Peter, James, and John. Those same three apostles were present at the agony of Christ in the garden of Gethsemane. At Gethsemane the apostles overslept; at the Transfiguration they were overwhelmed. Both times they missed the message that the cross and the crown are inseparable.

The context of the transfiguration between two predictions of his passion, the conversation of Moses and Elijah, and the three Apostles present are the clues that set the transfiguration in the context of the death and resurrection of Christ.

The transfiguration of Christ is proclaimed during Lent in the context of his death and resurrection in the hope that our Lenten observance will transfigure our faith. The preface at today's Mass repeats this message of the Transfiguration: "He revealed His glory to the disciples to strengthen them for the scandal of the cross. His glory shone from a body like our own, to show that the Church, which is the body of Christ, would one day share His glory."
