PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord’s Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Seeing is Believing

Christianity loves a Paradox and there is one in today's gospel. At times the blind can see when the sighted are blind. The man born blind illustrates that paradox. He is the only one in this gospel story who sees with the eyes of faith. The disciples are blind, the Pharisees are blind, and the parents of the beggar are blind. All blind to the message of Christ. Only the blind man sees the truth.

When Christ gives sight to the blind in the gospels it is a double beggar were blind, not only to the loyalty due their son, but also to the message of Christ. The blind man alone stands firmly for truth and for faith in Christ. He alone sees and is able to say, "I do believe."

We are challenged to see ourselves in the characters of gospel stories. Perhaps we share the blindness of the disciples, or the Pharisees, or the parents of the beggar. Like the disciples, the tragedies of life can blind us to the goodness of God. Christian faith sees unavoidable human suffering not as empty misery but as a share in the suffering, death, and resurrection of Christ. That vision of faith can bring the light of hope to human suffering.

Like the Pharisees, we can be blind to the teachings of our own faith. Catholicism is not a spiritual salad bar where you pick and choose your favorite principles. The gospels are not multiple choice. Our faith is an integral unit and a total commitment. Lent is a time to check for blind spots in our faith.

Perhaps we are, like the parents of the beggar, blind to those in need. Our Lenten denial should be an experience of need which animates us to share generously with those who lack the necessities of life.

Too often we see only what we want to. We have an eagle eye for the faults of others yet blind to our own failings. May our Lenten prayer, fasting, and almsgiving open our eyes to our own failings and the goodness of others.

miracle: the gift of physical sight, and also the vision of faith. Today's gospel demonstrates that by contrasting the lack of faith in those who are sighted, with the faith of the man born blind. He is the only one who clearly sees God in his life.

The disciples were blind. The problem of human suffering blinded them to the goodness of God. The Pharisees' legalistic observance of the Sabbath blinded them to the greater law of charity. The parents of the Look kindly on all candidates for Confirmation as they listen to Your voice. Open their hearts to Your Spirit and bring to fulfillment the good work that You have begun in them.

Make each of us an instrument of Your love. Teach us to appreciate what is holy in others, and to be patient with what we do not understand. DAILY PRAYER FOR THE FOURTH WEEK OF LENT

Heavenly Father, look upon me and hear my prayer during this holy Season of Lent.

Nourish me with your Word of life and make me one with You in love and compassion. Send your Spirit to make me strong in faith and active in good works. Give me the grace to rise above my human weakness and new life in the Sacraments, especially Reconciliation and the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.
I ask this through Jesus Christ, your Son. Amen.

St. Joseph

Prayer for Our Kids

March 20 is the Feast of St. Joseph, husband of Mary

O glorious St. Joseph, to you God committed the care of His only begotten Son amid the many dangers of this world.
We come to you and ask you to take under your special protection the children God has given us.
Through holy baptism they became children of God and members of His holy Church.

We consecrate them to you today, that through this consecration they may become your foster children.
Guard them, guide their steps in life, form their hearts
after the hearts of Jesus and Mary.

St. Joseph, who felt the tribulation and worry of a parent when the child Jesus was lost, protect our dear children for time and eternity.

May you be their father and counsellor.

Let them, like Jesus, grow in age as well as in wisdom and grace before God and men.

Preserve them from the corruption of his world, and give us the grace one day to be united with them in Heaven forever. Amen
