PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Friars' Mind

Fr. Curtis Carlson, OFM Cap., Fr. Vince Mary, OFM Cap., & Dcn. Charbel, OFM Cap.

He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead."

This line from the Nicene Creed, which we recite every Sunday, refers to what we, as Catholics, call the Second Coming of Christ. I believe it is a doctrine that we do not ponder enough.

We have Christmas to remember Christ's first coming in the flesh among us. We have Easter to recall his rising from the Dead, "the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep" (1 Cor 15:20).

But we await his Second Coming at the end of time, what we call the final judgment. We also await His coming at the hour of our death, what we call the particular judgment.

Christ's coming, and his subsequent judgment belong among the Church calls The Four Last Things, that is death, judgment, heaven or hell. The branch of theology which treats of these "last things" is known as eschatology. The term is derived from the Greek words for final, eschatos, and reason, or meaning, logos.

The Sunday readings for November are an opportune time to meditate upon these Last Things, particularly the Second Coming, the eschaton. The readings are preparing us slowly and steadily for the season of Advent, which will be upon us at the culmination of the month.

We will hear about ten virgins, five who were wise and five who were foolish. We will hear about a master who entrusts three servants with talents (money), and lastly, on the solemnity of Christ the King, we will hear about the separation of the sheep and the goats.

Judgment is often hard for us to face. Most of us do not like to be judged, or to even think about it. The Lord himself said, "Judge not, that you be not judged" (Mt 7:1).

Sometimes I wonder if we project an image of a Heavenly Magistrate onto God. There he sits, way up high with a stoic, bulldog-like face, wearing a bench wig, lifting his heavy gavel and slamming it down, sending a deadening, reverberating echo through the halls of our consciousness.

Or, maybe we have an image of God as a kind of Heavenly Grandma, looking past our sins, patting us on the head, pinching our cheeks, and bending down to give us a cookie.

Both images are wrong. If we want to see our Judge, we need only to look at Christ.

Christ is both fierce and gentle, demanding and merciful, all-seeing and all-powerful, and yet meek and full of compassion.

He is a just and merciful judge, who will come again. We know not the day nor the hour, yet, like the wise virgins, we can prepare.

We can enter into the mercy seat of the confessional and allow the sweet oil of absolution to enter into our souls.

We can read the Scriptures, slowly, and allow the light of His word to illumine our lamps.

We can persevere in good works, allowing the flame of His mercy to extend to those in most need of hope and assurance in a world full of darkness.

In the Eucharist, we can eat his flesh and drink his blood, so that we may grow into his likeness, so that when He appears "we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is" (1 Jn 3:2).

This is how His bride, the Church, awaits the return of the Bridegroom: through Faith, Hope and Love. "Amen, Maranatha, Come Lord Jesus!" (Rev 12:22).

NICENE CREED

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation e came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.
For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come.

Amen.
