PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Divine Mercy Sunday

Our Twin

Only Thomas spoke up and said, "Let us go along to die with him." This time Thomas is again the odd man out, not in doubt, but in loyalty.

The other gospel story involving Thomas occurs when Jesus said that he must return to the Father. "I am going to prepare a place for you. You know the way that leads where I go." Thomas replied, "We do not even know where you are going; how can we know the way?" That is not a lack of faith, but an honest faith. His confusion is expressed as a desire to understand.

If we piece together all three accounts of Thomas in the gospels, we have not only the well-known doubting Thomas, but also the loyal Thomas, and the honest Thomas. Honest, loyal, yet questioning. Those are the qualities, not of a skeptical cynic, but of a sincere believer. Saint Gregory wrote, "Our faith owes more to the doubts of Thomas than to the faith of all the other apostles," meaning that our doubts must be faced if our faith is to grow.

An unexamined faith is not an authentic faith. Thomas is a model for modern Christians who raise honest questions, from the perspective of a sincere faith. Our consistent faith is more important than our occasional doubts, loyalty more important than lapses, strengths more important than weaknesses.

We should rejoice that we are twins of Thomas in faith, and proud to say along with him, "My Lord and my God."

..... and mirth

Wrinkles are something other people have, similar to my character lines.

Today's gospel refers to the apostle Thomas as "Didymus," which is Greek for "twin." Thomas probably had a twin sister or brother. In the family of faith, we are all twins of the apostle Thomas. If you find it unflattering to be a twin of the doubting Thomas, it will be helpful to know more about this remarkable apostle.

The only thing that most people know about Thomas is that he was the stubborn hold-out who demanded tangible proof. Our secular culture refers to a skeptic as a Doubting Thomas. However, the apostle Thomas has been the victim of a bad press.

In fairness, Christians ought to know more about this Doubting Thomas. In addition to today's well-known passage, there are two other gospel stories involving Thomas. The first occurs when Christ says that he is going back to Bethany to comfort the grieving family of Lazarus. The apostles had just come from Bethany where a mob had tried to kill Jesus. All the other apostles protested that returning to Bethany would endanger them.

April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month

National Child Abuse Prevention Month recognizes the importance of communities working together to help families thrive and prevent child abuse.

During the month of April and throughout the year, schools, parishes, and communities are encouraged to increase awareness about child and family well-being and work together to implement effective strategies that support families and prevent child abuse and neglect.

Families are central to child safety, permanency, and well-being, and ALL families need support.

For families with limited resources or those facing additional challenges, the need for assistance is even greater.

We are part of a culture that is called to protect and heal. We value the prevention of abuse and the support of those who have been abused. Each one of us must continue to play a role in strengthening this culture within families. We must continue to be vigilant by making sure abuse is taken seriously and reported. We must be aware of inappropriate behaviors and report concerns through proper channels. We must advocate for the victims by listening and believing their story.

Let us pray for all victims of abuse, for those who provide help for the abused, and for teachers and mentors who work with children. And finally, let us pray for all families who are the first to show God's love, that they can provide safe and nurturing environments for their own children.

Let us continue to help children thrive by supporting families BEFORE they reach a crisis.

Our voices are more powerful together.
Spread the Word About Child Abuse Prevention!

The Divine Mercy Prayer Service will be held at 3:00 p.m. TODAY—Sunday, April 11, at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church. The hour will include Eucharistic Exposition, the Chaplet of Divine Mercy in song, litany of prayers, and meditation.

Jesus entrusted Saint Maria Faustina with the task of spreading the message of his Divine Mercy through a series of visions and interior locutions in the 1930s. When Pope John Paul II canonized Saint Faustina on April 30, 2000, he declared the Sunday after Easter to be Divine Mercy Sunday and an official feast day of the Church.

Everyone is encouraged to pray the novena to the Divine Mercy, which begins on Good Friday. Leaflets on this novena are at the church entrances at St. Fidelis, St. Ann, and St. Boniface.

Confessions will be heard beginning at 2:00 p.m. at IHM Church. This prayer service is sponsored by Divine Mercy Radio.

The Eucharistic Minister, Lector, and Cantor schedules can be found on the Mass Schedule page of the church website at StFidelisChurch.com.
