PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord’s Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Live Forever

The gospel reading for today's Feast of Corpus Christi, the Body and Blood of Christ, has this astounding promise of the Eucharist, "Whoever eats this bread will live forever." (Jn 6:51) The Jewish audience of Christ was astounded by those words. Christ did not retract but doubled down, "Your ancestors ate Manna in the desert and they died. This is the bread come down from heaven, that one may eat of it and never die." (Jn 6:59)

We have all been at the funerals of good devout people who have frequently received the Holy Communion. There must be a deeper meaning here, a vital distinction. There are different forms of life. In this instance the physical life of our human body and the life which Christ shared with his Heavenly Father, divine life.

Natural food gives us physical life, by an amazing process. We eat potatoes and pizza and pasta, and they become us. While we transform ordinary food into our own bodies, the food of the Eucharist transforms us into the Body of Christ.

St. Augustine said, "You do not change the Eucharistic food into yourself as with bodily food; when you consume the Eucharist you are changed into what you receive." As many grains of wheat become the one bread, we are all one with Christ in the Eucharistic bread. We become what we receive, the Body of Christ, the Bread of Life.

God shared our life on the first Christmas when Christ became a man, one of us. In the sacrament of the Eucharist, we share in the life of Christ when we received Holy Communion. "I am the Bread of Life. Whoever eats this bread will live forever." (Jn 6:51)

Most Catholics have a healthy sense of this mystery, expressed in their own simple language. Many say of receiving communion, "I feel closer to God." "I receive strength to try again." "I feel a renewed spirit within me."

Such words express well the mystery of grace, that in the Eucharist we share the life of God in Christ.

There is also comfort here for those who may not actually receive

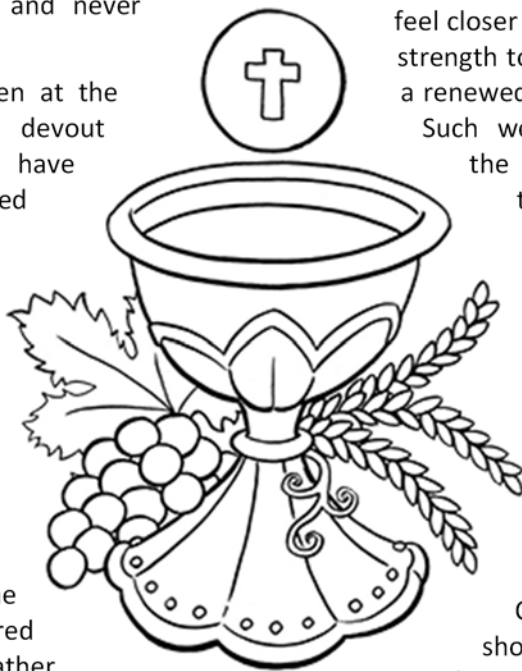

Communion. They should know that they are nourished with the bread of life by their active participation in the celebration of Mass when Christ becomes present for them on the altar.

This gift of grace received in Holy Communion is experienced and reinforced in Eucharistic adoration which deepens our sense of the presence of Christ in our life, and the wonder of his promise, "Whoever eats this bread will live forever." (Jn 6:36)

Thank You

We would like to express our deepest appreciation for everyone's generosity in support of the Fidelisfest. The personal commitment with helping as well as the donations to cover expenses and the bake sale were incredibly helpful and allowed us to reach our goal. Your continued stewardship and support (preparation, cooking, baking, set-up, clean-up, choir, entertainment, etc.) means so much to us, the Committee, but even more to "Our" Basilica. We are hoping that next year we can see more of our young and old parishioners get involved and enjoy the activities; the entertainment outside was fabulous. Once again, thank you to everyone who helped out and attended.

COAR Missionary to Speak at Tri-parish Masses June 24-25

COAR, which stands for the Community Oscar Arnulfo Romero, will be making an upcoming mission appeal and asking for your donations, prayers, and interest.

COAR is located in Zaragoza, El Salvador. It was founded in 1980 by a Cleveland Diocese Mission Team priest Fr. Ken Myers during El Salvador's brutal civil war. Fr. Ken and fellow Cleveland Mission Team members Sr. Dorothy Kazel, OSU, and Jean Donovan (murdered December 2, 1980) began gathering orphans from refugee camps and bringing them back to the Mission's parish of Zaragoza.

COAR is now known as the "Children's Village" in El Salvador with 1,000 day students at the school, as well as foster care, workshops, and other services. It is administered directly by the Archbishop of San Salvador through his Vicariate of Human Development. COAR's motto is Women and Men for God and Culture: the curriculum educates the entire person. With over 30 employees COAR strengthens the regional economy. One of the first orphans of COAR served as mayor of Zaragoza from 1998-2002. COAR buzzes with optimism and vitality.

However, El Salvador remains an impoverished country as are COAR's students. To protect the most vulnerable simply requires food, shelter, and housemothers. To educate the children to modernize their economy requires updated computers and new classrooms. To get the best teachers and treat them fairly requires wages near the Salvadoran national average. Please help us respond to the needs of the most impoverished among us and help them build a better future.

More information is available at www.coarpeacemission.org, 216-269-1710. Donations are payable to ST FIDELIS CHURCH. There are blue Missionary envelopes available placed into the 2nd collection, or, brought or mailed to the parish later with "COAR" in the memo.

5 of the Our Father medals are replicas of the 5 altars in the Basilica. Printed on the back of the Main Altar is the date the church building was completed. 2 have the words "Pray for us" stamped on them, while the other two have that saying spelled out in German: "Betet fur uns".

The rosary centerpiece is a replica of the front of the Basilica. On the back are the symbols of a basilica that stand in the sanctuary—the bell and the umbrella.

One of the Our Father medals has a picture of St. Fidelis with the backside showing a picture of the Capuchin crossed arms.

The Cross is the one above the Basilica's Tabernacle and it is attached to a replica of the Volga German settlers statue sculpted by Pete Felten for the 1976 Centennial.

Protecting your KIDS on social media

Online social media services aren't new, but many of us are still learning how to use them without getting into trouble – especially children and teens. Use these tips to help your kids safely use any social media service from networking to image posting sites.

NetSmartz® Workshop

For more resources visit NetSmartz.org

A program of the Copyright © 2014 National Center for Missing & Exploited Children. All rights reserved.

Do you know...

What they're posting?

Check comments and images for personal information, like phone numbers and addresses, as well as inappropriate and illegal content such as hateful or threatening speech and nudity. Delete anything you think is too much information.

How they access social media?

Mobile devices, like cell phones and tablets, let children access social media apps away from adult supervision. Children may post content and even share their locations. Review app settings to help them keep information – like their location – private.

Who they're talking to?

Your child's online contact lists and followers may include people you don't know, or even people your child only knows online. Even if you don't know the contact, make sure you know what images, messages, and other content they're sharing.

What account settings they're using?

This is where you can control who has access to your child's information. Each social media service has a different setup, so take a look at each one your child uses. Always ask yourself – what is on the profile and who can see it?

Who has access to their information?

Most social media services have ads and applications from 3rd parties, like games and fan pages. If children click on these or add them to their profiles, they are allowing access to their personal information. Have a discussion about what's OK to add and what's not.

Where to report?

If anyone talks to your child about sex, shares or asks them to share sexual images, or is a victim of sexual exploitation, make a report to the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children® at www.CyberTipline.com or 1-800-THE-LOST®.
