PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord’s Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Holy Halloween

Children love Halloween, and not simply for the candy treats. Their imaginations are fertile and Halloween invites them to express their creativity. It is an opportunity for children to present themselves as more than adults envision them. Some of it may be frivolous, but it can be a healthy expression of their dreams.

The Christian observance of Halloween, All Hallow's Eve, is completed on November 2, All Souls Day, when we recall not only our sainted ancestors but also our own mortality. Unfortunately, this aspect of Halloween is occasionally distorted into the macabre, dwelling on death in an unhealthy manner which can be harmful to children. But generally, Halloween images of goblins and ghosts are presented in good humor without demeaning cemeteries or other monuments to the departed which are to be respected as sacred.

A sober reflection on death and dying can be a rewarding exercise for adults. Pope Francis said recently, "It is death, paradoxically, that allows life to remain alive. It is the end goal that allows a story to be written. A culture that forgets death begins to die within. Remember, if death is not to have the last word, it is because in life we learned to die for one another."

Halloween costumes can represent the Christian virtues as lived out in the lives of great saints. Dressing up as a favorite saint, for example, can be an inspiring celebration of Halloween for adults as well as children. A life of Christian service to others is the hallmark of the great saints we honor on these twin feasts of All Saints and All Souls Day. May our celebration of these feasts and our delight in Halloween help us to understand more fully the Christian meaning of life and death.

... and mirth

"A mask often tells us more than a face."
— Oscar Wilde

Although some of our present Halloween customs may be from secular traditions, the historical roots are religious. The popular term, Halloween, is derived from All Hallow's Eve, the night before All Saints Day. For we Christians there is a religious dimension of Halloween which enables us to see ourselves as more than mortal humans. We are a people of faith created to live in the presence of God here and hereafter, which is reflected in the celebrations of this season.

The Christian message of Halloween is founded on the twin feasts of All Saints Day and All Souls Day which are celebrated on the first two days of November. These feasts represent the Christian paradox of life through death, the Paschal Mystery of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Stewardship for Children Week 4

“... come and you will see....” John 1:39

Responding to Jesus' Call

Stewardship is: our belief that all we have and all we are comes from God. These are called gifts.

How does Jesus call ME?

On week 2 we learned that it is through our Baptism that we become members of the Church.

What does this mean? It means that now I belong to a community of believers who choose to follow Jesus.

This community of believers is more than our church. It is everyone who chooses to do Jesus' work here on earth.

It means they follow Jesus not just sometimes or on Sunday but every moment and every day of their lives.

I also, have a choice to follow Jesus and to be his Steward by the way I live my life.

Responding “Yes” to God’s call

What happens if I say “yes”?

I have responded to the call of Jesus!

I am saying “thank you” for the blessings He has given me.

I know He will give me what I need to follow Him.

I will be responsible for using my gifts to answer God’s call to me.

I join with a community of believers to do His work here on earth.

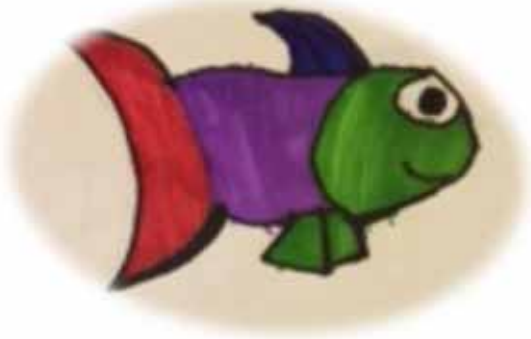

Like the apostles, who were fisherman, I will be fishing as Jesus taught! I will love and help others say “yes” to Him also!

Stewardship for Children Week 4

Jesus gives me an invitation and I must accept it and say yes or decline it and say no!

At home activity:

Parents: Ask your children to do the following exercise and then review it with them:

How do you think you will do Jesus' work? Who can help you?
What do you need in order to do it?

As a reminder that you will be fishing like Jesus make a fish aquarium! You can use a shoe box, pictures of fish, colors or paint, etc. Decorate/color your box, as the example shows and name your fish. Put the aquarium in a place as a daily reminder that you are God's Steward helping others get to know him, also!

Prayer:

Thank you Jesus for my life and for giving me every day to work and play. Please teach me to give and share with others the gifts you have given me. May I always do all I do the way You would want me to do it. Amen.

DIOCESE

Catholic Charities 2023 Annual Appeal

"If it wasn't for Catholic Charities coming to our community, we would not have been able to make ends meet or keep our boys fed. It lifted our burdens."

This quote comes from a woman named Cathie, a wife and mother of two, from Beverly. Last year, Cathie's life was turned upside down after a breast cancer diagnosis forced her to leave her job. To be closer to his wife, Cathie's husband also changed jobs amidst her health battle, creating substantial income loss in her family. Cathie was constantly worrying about how to pay her medical and utility bills, and even the expense of buying groceries was a tremendous burden. That's when Cathie heard about Catholic Charities outreach program and started going each month to receive supplemental food and hygiene items for her family.

DOUBLE your impact with our $150,000 match, to provide people like Cathie with resources to overcome life's greatest challenges. Your generosity brings life to our mission, providing those struggling throughout northern Kansas with food, hygiene items, clothing, transportation, and mental health support. To give to the Catholic Charities Annual appeal, please use the pledge cards and remittance envelopes that are located at the church entrances, or by the pledge card that you will receive in the mail. You can also donate at ccnks.org/annualappeal.

We truly hope you can step up and be that face of hope for our neighbors in need. Thank you! With questions, please contact our Donor and Parish Relations Coordinator, Megan Spilker, at 785-825-0208 or mstilker@ccnks.org.

Mass Intention Scheduling

We are changing the scheduling time for Mass intentions. Currently, the 2024 Mass Intention book is open and a number of Masses are already scheduled but there are plenty of dates still available.

We will open the 2025 Mass Intention book next year around October or November 2024. The exact date will be announced in the bulletin in 2024.

At this time, the stipend for Masses is still $10.

Each grade school family should have received one. Those completed forms can be returned to the grade school office.
