To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

The Art of Faith

Pope Benedict XVI was asked by an atheistic journalist what credible evidence the Catholic Church could possibly offer to our secular society. He answered, "Our art and our saints." Our faith has inspired some of the greatest art of all civilization and that art has helped to define the mysteries of our faith. Today's feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord is a helpful illustration.

The gospel for the second Sunday of Lent is always the Transfiguration. Many wonder what the Transfiguration has to do with Lent. It seems more like Easter. In each of the gospels the story of the Transfiguration is sandwiched between two predictions of the suffering and death of Christ because the beauty of the Transfiguration and the burden of cross can be understood only in terms of each other. The essence of our faith is the unity of the death and resurrection of Christ, which is known as the Paschal Mystery.

Perhaps the most famous painting of the Transfiguration is by Raphael, as shown here. The top half of the painting shows a radiant glorified

Christ, but below the transfigured Christ the bottom half surprisingly portrays a sick child surrounded by anxious people. What does this sick child have to do with the Transfiguration? Everything.

In each gospel, immediately after the Transfiguration, Christ cures a sick child. Raphael placed that sick child in the painting of the transfigured Christ because the glory of Christ transfigured is shared by that sick child through the mystery of the cross. This is the Paschal Mystery in art.

Raphael's painting conveys the Lenten message that as the sick child was cured by Christ our weaknesses are healed and our sins forgiven by the death and resurrection of Christ. The glory of God is revealed in our weakness as well as in our strength. Our suffering is not meaningless. We each have a share in the sufferings of Christ, which is inseparable from our share in the glory of Christ. St. Paul wrote prophetically, "I find joy in my sufferings; for in my own body I fill up what is lacking in the sufferings of Christ." (Col 1:24)

Raphael painted many religious masterpieces of the Madonna, the Nativity, and the Crucifixion. In his will he requested that above his coffin be placed his Transfiguration, with the sick child below the glorified Christ. Raphael died tragically in 1520 at the age of 37 . . . on Good Friday.

. . . and mirth

The one who does not understand your silence will not understand your words.

Tour Guides Needed

Spring and Summer are approaching.
That means more people wanting to tour
The Basilica of St. Fidelis.

Tours are offered for larger groups and usually take place in the late morning or early afternoon; however, there are exceptions. Tours can last anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour depending on the touring group and the tour guide.

We can provide you with a history book to get you started. You can also observe a current tour guide to help you learn the process; however, you are welcome to tell your own personal stories related to the church. The more you do the tours, the easier and more fun it can be.

And if you have any questions, we will try to help as much as we can.

If you are willing to help, please call the Parish Office at 785-735-2777.

Comments from tourists can be very uplifting.
