PLENARY INDULGENCE—The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence—a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin—by visiting a minor basilica. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord’s Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion, and pray for the intention of the pope. ~ taken from The Register, Salina Diocese newspaper

Wedding Party Manners

Women hear gospel stories quite differently than men. And today's parable offers a good example. This gospel passage is traditionally referred to as the Parable of the Foolish Bridesmaids. That title comes from the early fathers of the church. They saw the failure of the bridesmaids to provide sufficient oil as a lack of their prudence and foresight. And there is a valuable lesson in that interpretation.

But women scripture scholars see the story from a quite different perspective. The five bridesmaids were not irresponsible. They were the victims of the inconsiderate rude behavior of the bridegroom and his party. The reason the women did not have enough oil for their lamps was not their lack of prudent planning, but the selfish overindulgent behavior of the men. If the groomsmen had not been out all night carousing with their buddies and had returned on time, there would have been plenty of oil in the bridesmaids' lamps.

Adding injury to insult, after inconsiderately returning late and forcing the bridesmaids to go and buy more oil — which they caused by their irresponsible self-indulgent behavior — the carousing groom had the nerve to berate the bridesmaids, lock the door on the them, and then refused them entry into the party. The groom and his buddies are the ones who should have been embarrassed and punished, not the five bridesmaids whom they had rudely inconvenienced. So women can rightly refer to this gospel story not as the Parable of the Foolish Bridesmaids, but the Parable of the Selfish Groomsmen.

The traditional message of the gospel, taken as the Parable of the Foolish Bridesmaids, is daily fidelity to our Christian values. That is valid and should not be minimized. "Stay awake, for you know neither the day nor the hour." We need to live a Christian life day in and day out so that we are prepared to answer not only the final call of the Lord, but also the regular challenges of daily life.

But when this story is read as the Parable of the Inconsiderate Groomsmen there is a further message. We are challenged to reflect on how our behavior affects others. Our lack of responsibility can often inconvenience and embarrass those who are dependent on us. Such burdens on others might often be unknown to us but we are nevertheless responsible for our thoughtless behavior. This gospel story challenges us as the Parable of the Rude Groomsmen as well as the Parable the Foolish Virgins. "Stay awake, for you know neither the day nor the hour." And, mind your manners!

... and mirth

Few people are quite so rude as the over-refined.

OF THIS PROJECT!

St. Fidelis Food Bank

The St. Fidelis Food Bank is available during Parish Office hours to those in need of food. Donations of food or money are always welcome to help supply the Food Bank.
